FEELIN' AT HOME AROUND CAMPUS

Once a student steps on to campus he realizes that he has just stepped into a new world. However no matter how different this world seems, there is an "uncanny" sense of belonging. Maybe it's the town of Boiling Springs, North Carolina, which gives the illusion of being one of the candidates for "Main Street, Anywhere, U.S.A." The genuine kind of place where everyone still speaks when they pass you on the street. Perhaps that is the clue; instead of the town setting, maybe it is the people. You know the kind, the people that have that simple sense of humor, that is astonished by the progress of Modern Urbanization. The kind of people that make you feel right at home, even in a college town. But, how can you tell just which one that it is. After reflecting for a few moments, one must come to the conclusion that it is both, the town and the people. So no matter if you are on campus or in downtown Boiling Springs . . . There's always the FEELIN' AT HOME feeling.

Feeling at home in the classroom is more than just a feeling, it is an attitude. An attitude of knowing why you are here. It does not simply mean passing tests, listening to the lectures and all the headaches of studying; it means to learn, to grow, to allow yourself to become all that you can be. It's more than just a feeling, it is a desire. You are here because you want to be here. Whatever the reason, you have set a goal, to learn, to graduate, to get established toward a career and the classroom experience is a major part of that goal. The Administrators, the professors, the classmates and you make the difference of Feelin' At Home in the classroom.

FEELIN' AT HOME IN THE CLASSROOM

FEELIN' AT HOME WITH OUR FRIENDS

Friends are a very important part of college life. Someone has rightly said that, "The friends you make in college, are the friends that will last a lifetime." This may be true in general, but at Gardner-Webb friends are even more special, they are a way of life. The freshmen must make new friends as he enters the new environment. Sophomores and juniors may seem like old "pros" in the college game, but they realize the need for friends to help get them through. Seniors now that is a different story. You can appreciate friends made in college more than Seniors. If anyone has any doubt to the validity of the statement should attend Graduation exercises. Yes, Friends are the most important ingredient of that 'Feelin' at Home' feeling.

STUDENT LIFE

GRADUATION SPEAKER NOTES CHANGE

"We must master the process of change in order to be designers of the future," said Dr. Roberta van der Voort as she addressed the 291 Gardner-Webb graduates on Saturday, May 14.

Graduation activities began at G-W on Friday, May 13, with the pinning of 24 nursing students and climaxed Saturday with the conferring of 192 bachelor of science, 66 bachelor of arts, 27 associate of arts and six master of arts degrees.

The honorary doctor of divinity degree was also conferred as well as the presentation of the Huggins and Curtis Citizenship medals and the Senior Scholastic Award.

During the commencement address, Ms. van der Voort, who serves as group vice president of the United Way of America, stressed to the graduates that as future leaders they will need to deal with constant change and uncertainty.

"Research has shown that effective leaders possess a tolerance for uncertainty, the ability to reconcile differences, the ability to predict with accuracy and a tolerance for difference," she said. "I don't speak of leadership in the traditional authoritative way. All of us have to take the responsibility to master and manage change, lest we become its victim."

Ms. van der Voort set the stage for her message by noting the amount of change that has taken place in the last 20 years. She predicted that by the year 2000 today's college graduates will be back in school learning the necessary skills to deal with the continuing changes of the world.

Dr. Craven Williams, president of Gardner-Webb, welcomed the guests to the 1983 commencement by relating the exercises to the traditions which encompass several hundred years of academic processions.

"Students and faculty in colorful academic regalia were first evidenced over 1000 years ago at the University of Bologna," noted Williams.

Receiving the honorary doctor of divinity degree was T. Max Linnens, pastor of the Boiling Springs Baptist Church. He was awarded the honorary degree on the recommendation from the college's faculty and administration with the approval of the college's board of trustees.

Linnens has served as pastor of the Boiling Springs Baptist Church for 25 years. He is a graduate of Gardner-Webb Junior College, Wake Forest University and received a master of divinity degree from Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Linnens served as chaplain at Gardner-Webb for ten years. He also taught Greek, Hebrew, and the New Testament at the college.

The recipient of the J.D. Huggins Citizenship Medal was Franklin Craig Meadows, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Frank Meadows of Mount Airy, N.C.

The recipient of the Etta L. Curtis Citizenship Medal was Mary Joan Proctor daughter of Drs. Dan and Lonnie Proctor of Shelby, N.C.

The recipient of the Senior Scholastic Award was Susanne B. Cardwell Davis. This award recognizes the senior with the highest grade point average. Ms. Davis graduated summa cum laude with a grade point average of 3.95.

HOMECOMING '83 OH WHAT A FEELING

The bonfire, the concert, the people . . . three days of activities centered around the game. Homecoming 1983—Oh What a Feeling! Things began to heat up Thursday night with the bonfire held at the boiler room and the rhythm was set at the Mike Cross Concert, Friday night. Despite clouds and a constant drizzle, spirits were not dampened for the clash of the Bulldogs and the Carson-Newman Eagles. Spangler Stadium began to fill early and umbrellas dotted the stands. Spectators were treated to a procession of clowns, a roosted eagle, and a rolling graveyard as the Homecoming Parade made its way through the stadium. After all the preparations came the battle on which everything was centered. The Bulldogs gave a fine performance in the first half leading the Eagles 20-7, but a comeback in the second half allowed Carson-Newman to inch past theBulldogs 27-20. With the spirit of competition still in the air, our basketball team showed their skills in a scrimmage game held in the Paul Porter Arena. Still all was not over. The beach and top-40 band, North Tower, provided the music for a dance which capped off the three day event. One of the highlights came during halftime at the football game when Jamie McNeely was crowned Homecoming Queen. Jamie, a senior, is from Greenville, South Carolina. It was the combination of all of these activities which made Homecoming—1983 one of the most exciting weekends of the year.
